

Forceful Earthquake Hits Baja Peninsula

A 6.2-magnitude earthquake hit Mexico's Baja peninsula on Tuesday. The epicenter was located 75 kilometers north of La Paz and at least 10 kilometers deep, according to the USGS. No immediate damage or injury was reported while the temblor frightened most residents in the affected areas, where earthquakes rarely take place.