

Strong Earthquake Struck Chilean Coast

A 6.0-magnitude earthquake occurred offshore around 58 miles south-southwest of Valparaiso, Chile on Friday the 15th. Tremors of the quakes were felt in the country's capital, Santiago, which was located east of Valparaiso. Meanwhile, no immediate casualty was reported.